Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed November 1, 2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argued that Shaffer does not disclose active and standby telephony call processing hosts. However, the H.323 gatekeepers perform call processing for controlling calls between telephony subscribers (para. 5, lines 1-10; note: claim 5 recites the hosts as H.323 gatekeepers).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 1-2, 5-9, 15-17 and 20-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shaffer et al. (US 2005/0058061) in view of Gordon (US 4,993,014).

- 1. Regarding claims 1-2, 5-9, 15-17 and 20-21, Shaffer discloses a redundant telephony call processing system comprising active and standby telephony call processing hosts (figs. 1 and 5, items 108; para. 5) and a LAN (item 101) for carrying messages for the processing hosts.

  Further regarding claim 15, N=1 and a third backup processing host is provides (para. 22, last four lines).
- 2. However, Shaffer does not specifically disclose that the processing hosts are geographically distributed. Gordon discloses providing geographically distributed network control nodes (col. 10, lines 49-52). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to have geographically distributed processing hosts in the invention of Shaffer in order to prevent a point failure from affecting both hosts (Gordon, col. 10, lines 49-52).

Claims 3-4 and 18-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shaffer et al. (US 2005/0058061) in view of Gordon (US 4,993,014) as applied to claim 1 or 15 above, and in further view of Glitho et al. (US 2002/0160810).

3. Regarding claim 3-4 and 18-19, Shaffer in view of Gordon does not disclose SIP proxy servers or media gateway controllers. However, Glitho recognizes that control devices such as SIP proxy servers, media gateway controllers and H.323 gatekeepers are interchangeable (para. 20). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to have a SIP server or a media gateway controller in the invention of Shaffer in view of Gordon in order to provide a controller compatible with a particular signaling or control protocol as is known in the art (Glitho, para. 20).

Claims 10-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shaffer et al. (US 2005/0058061) in view of Gordon (US 4,993,014) as applied to claim 9 above, and in further view of Westfall et al. (US 6,976,087).

4. Regarding claims 10-14, Shaffer in view of Gordon does not disclose separated LAN segments. Westfall discloses separated LAN segments joined by routers. The segments have different IP subnets. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to have separate LAN segments in the invention of Shaffer in view of Gordon in order to interconnect private LAN segments (Westfall, col. 5, lines 5-6).

Claims 22-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shaffer et al. (US 2005/0058061) in view of Gordon (US 4,993,014), Westfall et al. (US 6,979,087) and Chien et al. (US 2002/0165972).

5. Regarding claims 22-23, Shaffer in view of Gordon and Westfall disclose a method for routing packets among between geographically separate processing hosts as noted in the rejection of claims 10-14 above. However, Shaffer in view of Gordon and Westfall does not disclose using masking to route packets. Chien discloses using subnet masks to route data packets (para. 60). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to use masking in the invention of Shaffer in view of Gordon and Westfall in order to properly route data within the network (Chien, para. 60).

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
